THE BULLETIN OF
TEMPLE BETH ISRAEL

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This issue marks my last President's message in The Bulletin. I greatly appreciate the opportunity you gave to me to serve as your President these past two years. The satisfaction and pleasure I have realized in working with you has been incomparable, in so many ways.

I have tried to befriend and be of assistance to each and every one of you and your response has been extraordinarily positive. We were able to involve more and more people in Temple life and, most importantly, extended our Temple family as we progressed.

People need to be acknowledged. They want to know that others care about them and their families. We have tried to accomplish that and also to bring interesting, diverse speakers and courses to Temple so that the congregants have reason to participate.

You are the reason my term of office has been so meaningful. Your smiles, your friendship, your obvious joy of being part of the family; this has meant the world to me.

Your unflinching support for the Temple in every manner has been important. Your support and concern for my well being, so that I can move along in life, has been something I shall never forget.

In some small way, to offer recompense to you, I offer all my concern, friendship and love, along with my wishes for many more healthy and joyous years ahead.

Bruce A. Sands, President

SAVE THE DATE

NOVEMBER 14, 2004

Be prepared for a tremendous kick-off show to usher in TBI's 25th Anniversary.

Save the evening right now,
as you will not want to miss this event.

Todah Rabah

Our Temple Ushers were there for the Yom Hashoah Service on April 18th. Their work helped add to the dignity and to the organization of the service that was attended and appreciated by over 300 people.

From the Editor

Not only is this the last issue until September, but my last issue as the editor of the Bulletin.

Being the editor has been a great experience and privilege for me, to help create, with others, an attractive, readable newsletter that effectively communicates what is happening at Temple Beth Israel. Your comments leave me to believe that we did meet our objective.

For me personally, the Bulletin was truly a labor of love. It was the catalyst that kept my creative juices working to make each issue, in some way, better than the last. The rewarded feeling of accomplishment made the effort worthwhile. The credit is due to the involvement and commitment of our talented staff members. One has only to attend even just a few minutes of our monthly staff meeting to quickly be impressed by their enthusiasm as measured in decibels.

The Staff made the difference. I thank them all and appreciate the time they devoted, the diligence they donated and the loyalty they had to make it all come together in just the way we had envisioned.

Joyce Paley, my Associate Editor, for the Temple's good fortune, has agreed to become the new editor. She has been an invaluable partner for the last two years, worked with me and been involved with every facet of putting the Bulletin together. Joyce will do a great job!

The first and last things you see when the Bulletin arrives with your mail are the covers. All fifty-four covers (front & back for 27 issues) were conceived and designed by Richard Olin. They reflect his outstanding creativity not only in design but in his input at our meetings.

Fran Adelman and Doris White have been on staff from the very first issue. Fran has contributed many of the feature articles while still diligently watching our P's & Q's. Doris who started as the BIW reporter fortunately agreed to take on additional writing and promotional assignments.

Judy Goldstein contributed her wonderful free-style writing skills to feature articles and then the BIW column for this past year. Bernie White added his refreshingly inimitable style as he reported on the activities of the Temple's Men's Club.

Gloria Sabin and Karen Shore have agreed to assist Joyce in her new position as Editor. Both are eminently qualified, having been involved with the Bulletin doing excellent feature writing and research.

When Shirley Fein first became a member of the Bulletin staff, little did we anticipate that she (with Arnold's camera prowess) would become our travel maven telling us about their Jewish holiday celebrations wherever they happened to be.

Photos by Lillian Sands were a staple addition to our Bulletin...testifying that a picture "is worth a thousand words". And a special note of deep appreciation and thank you to Irma who, for the last three years, had to adjust our personal and social life to deadline-demanded times of the month, including unanticipated and untimely emergency trips to Sir Speedy.

FROM THE RABBI'S STUDY....

This Temple year is ending the way it began...with blinding speed. I do not recall a busier year than the one we have just enjoyed, together. It was marked by learning; wonderful scholars came here to teach. Our Miniversity of Judaism has continued to grow. Wonderful rabbis have taught under its aegis. Our members have rendered service to our congregants as we have begun "Temple Tuesdays" in cooperation with Jewish Family and Children's Service, a program for seniors who have difficulty in getting to other Temple programs. Our regular worship services have been beautiful and the special services we had at Thanksgiving and Yom Hashoah were much appreciated by the community. Perhaps the most important program we held was the Community Forum on the movie "The Passion of the Christ." With participation by the Center For Catholic- Jewish Studies and area clergy, we reached new levels of understanding and provided a valuable service to a Jewish and non-Jewish community that was deeply confused and concerned over the issues raised by the movie. Needless to say, the level of social activity at Temple Beth Israel continues to provide enough zest to keep us all hopping. Our Gala and all the activities of B.I.W. and Men's Club never cease! It was marked by moments of joy and moments of sorrow. New members of Temple have begun to reinvigorate us. While our year has encompassed much joy, we have also experienced sorrow as beloved members of long standing have died or relocated in order to be closer to their families. Our hearts are with them all. We rejoice in the new members who have joined us and we look forward to the added vigor that they will bring to our Temple Family. As our Temple turns to a new administration, we thank our outgoing President, Bruce Sands, for his love and dedication. May God bless him, Lillian and his family. We look forward to working with our President-elect Milton Lucow in the coming year to continue the work of which we can all be proud at Temple Beth Israel. Finally, I thank all of you, the wonderful members of this wonderful congregation for all your hard work and selfless dedication. Have a wonderful summer and come back, ready to work!

Fondly,

Rabbi Michael B. Eisenstat

IN MEMORIAM

EARL ASHWORTH
DR. JULIUS PEARSON

AN INTEGRAL PART OF SHAVUOT – THE BOOK OF RUTH

Shavuot has both historical and agricultural significance: it commemorates the time when the first fruits were harvested, the end of the barley and beginning of the wheat harvest, and it celebrates the giving of the Torah. The festival is also known as Pentecost – the 50th day – the 6th of Sivan. .

It is customary to read from the Book of Ruth on Shavuot because events in Ruth took place during harvest time. Also, Ruth's conversion to Judaism is symbolic of Israel's loyalty to the Torah. The story of Ruth is a particularly touching one that resonates in the hearts and minds of women throughout the ages. Here we have a Moabite woman, a daughter of the king of Moab, who relinquishes her ties to her homeland to go with her mother-in-law back to the land of Judah. Her words to Naomi, "Whither thou goest, I will go; thy people will be my people," exemplifies pure love and loyalty that can cross gender lines.

The practice of gleaning, of tilling the fields and gathering what the reapers had dropped or left, was a custom accorded to the poor. Ruth's gleaning in the fields of Boaz, a rich and kindly man, led to a levirate marriage: Boaz was a kinsman of Ruth's deceased husband and his father, and their union involved the redemption of the land that had been sold.

At the end of the Book of Ruth is a genealogy of David; Ruth, the convert to Judaism, was an ancestor of the future king of the Jews.

BETH ISRAEL WOMEN

Dear Friends,

My term as president of the Beth Israel Sisterhood is coming to a close. I am honored to have been given the opportunity to serve in this capacity. Although I hesitated before accepting the presidency two years ago, my feelings of anxiety were quickly dispelled by the capability, the willingness and the sensitivity of the women of our board. During these past two years, each, in her own way, has made my job exceedingly easy, and I thank them for their hard work and diligence. It is these women who are the heart and soul of our sisterhood. We have had two years of outstanding programs and made significant contributions to the well-being of our temple. Few things in my life have given me greater satisfaction than being able to contribute to our lovely house of worship, Temple Beth Israel.

We women of BIW can be proud of the many projects that are supported by our efforts and our dues. From some of the funds generated by our Brick Walkway project, we have paid for the repair and installation of the Temple's sound system. Through the efforts of our highly successful Judaica Shop, we have been able to fulfill our pledge to the Pillar program. These are significant gifts to our Temple. We have been there for every major holiday event during the year, plus our own exciting and well attended programs.

And since we have just passed the 90th birthday of Women of Reform Judaism, it is good for me to remind you how your dues support our movement. We are the largest single contributors to the youth dept of United Reform Judaism and to the Rabbinic Scholarship fund. We are the women's fund raising arm for the World Union for Progressive Judaism and we support the Jewish Braille Institute. This is in addition to the guidance and support provided to each sisterhood member of WRJ.

Since I have your attention, let me take this opportunity to encourage every woman member in our congregation to think about increasing her own contribution and influence here at Beth Israel by becoming a member of BIW. Every task needs someone to make sure that it gets done, whether it's taking minutes, running a dinner and program, chairing an important committee, cutting up salad for a lunch meeting, or helping to decorate a table. Every effort is important. The satisfactions of a job well done are enormous and the many opportunities for personal growth far too tempting to pass up. And if you are lucky enough to be asked to be on the board of Beth Israel Women, or if you are given the honor of serving as its president, I would like you to know that these positions come with a benefit not readily available elsewhere; the benefit of having made Temple Beth Israel a better place because you were there to do the job. I will still be on the board as a past president, and I look forward to greeting you as a proud member of our sisterhood.

B'Shalom, Suzanne Lutkoff

JUDAICA SHOP EXPANDS ART OFFERINGS

Our Temple Gift Shop, under the expert guidance of Alice Taich, is branching out. We're not moving physically, but rather spiritually into the realm of Israeli art. Alice has purchased some wonderful pieces to sell to those of you looking for something special in the line of gifts. We saw several artistic tzadaka (charity) boxes that are a far cry from the blue and white tin containers we used to hang on the wall.

There are some framed Hamsa drawings in beautiful arrays of color. "Hamsa" means "five," a number that protects one against the Evil Eye. (And if you don't believe in such, then it simply means good luck for you).

And finally, she has purchased some work from the artist Ilan Hasson, from Israel, whose artwork is based on religious subjects from the Bible to the Talmud, to the Haggadah, to Kabbalah. You must stop in and see these terrific objects d'art. You will be delighted at the new direction the gift shop is taking.

Volunteers Needed

Truly A Mitzvah...

You are needed to interact with preschoolers at the Helen Payne Nursery. The program runs Monday through Friday from 9:15 to 11:15 AM to read stories or do an art project with the children who are 4-5 years old. You will be helping in nurturing and enriching these children's educational experience. For information, please call Ruth Daniel at 383-3628 before May 3rd or after at (301) 656-1853.

A Seder In South Africa

Yom Tov / Hag HaMatot

We now have an additional extended family that shared their Passover Service and Seder with us on April 5th. The members of Cape Town's Temple Israel were very welcoming and were happy to have twenty-two cruise guests attend their service in the Sanctuary and then to participate in their Seder.

When we entered this very old stately building, we immediately could see that this was a congregation that not only suffered from attrition, but lack of funds as well. The building certainly needed a facelift. But all this was unimportant when we felt the warmth of their service and caring. Temple Israel is a Reform Synagogue; however, the service was Conservative. Evidently, they have to satisfy their diverse members. They did have a wonderful choir that added greatly to the service.

Their seating arrangements at the Seder were very considerate. All twenty-two of us were seated at separate tables so that we could have a one-to-one conversation with our Cape Town hosts. I learned that in 1960 there were 100,000 Jews in Cape Town. That number today stands at 20,000. Due to problems with affirmative action, it is difficult for many students to enter the University. Therefore, young people are sent to Australia, England, Israel and U.S. for their higher education. Most of these young people never return to South Africa.

My Seder companion, seated on my right, was a young man of 9 years going on twenty-five. He told me he loved Passover because his mother made pizza out of matzos. He asked many questions and also wanted to know how old I was. Naturally, I did not tell the truth!

It was a very pleasant 'hamish' evening and once again, we felt that we were connected to our heritage no matter where we travel in this wide-wide world.

Shirley & Arnold Fein

IF YOU OR KNOW SOMEBODY WHO CAN'T GET OUT TO TEMPLE...

TEMPLE TUESDAY CONTINUES THROUGH THE SUMMER. If you haven't contacted us about participating in this wonderful opportunity to get out and have a good time, do so now by contacting the Temple office at 383-3428. Those who have attended have enjoyed a wonderful time sharing the entertainment, activities and lunch with old and new friends. You will be picked up at your home in time for the program that begins at 10:30 and returned when it's over at 1:30. So join us on Tuesdays and meet others and renew friendships. It's an opportunity to meet and to talk, to be involved with others and hear from people about what's happening in the community.

MEN'S CLUB

This is my last column as president of the Men's Club, and I would like to take advantage of the opportunity to express some thoughts about this great organization and its role within Temple Beth Israel.

We men generally start the program year as leaders, ushering in the congregation for Rosh Hashonah and Yom Kippur, and shortly thereafter gathering in the returning flock to reunite for an evening of good fellowship at our annual "Shalom Again" celebration. In the middle months, we sponsor increasingly popular "Opera Night" featuring those wonderful, young singers from the Sarasota Opera. Our only regret is that we have so far only been partially successful in reaching out to the Longboat Key community so that they could join us in this wonderful musical experience.

Men's Club Sabbaths provide not only an opportunity for group expression of our faith, but also very personal mini-sermons by some of our members. Our faith is also expressed in annual scholarships for Camp Coleman, the Reform Movement's overnight camp in Georgia, major gifts to Israeli medical services, and starting this year another major gift to our Israeli twinning Temple Bet Daniel. A number of smaller grants to a variety of local and national charities were also made.

Despite all of the above, we are probably best known as restaurateurs. We provide roughly equal numbers of servings at our five "Lunches with the Rabbi" and our two bagel-and-lox breakfasts, but the atmospheres are quite different. The breakfasts are part of the Scholar-in-Residence program and Israel Independence Day, and tend to be scholarly and contemplative. The lunches are a different story.

Emboldened by the fragrances and tastes of corned beef and half-sour pickles and in some cases tuna fish (yes, there are some among us who get turned on by the corned beef of the sea) we have no-holds-barred and counter-sessions with the Rabbi, who usually prevails. Rabbi, we really do appreciate the pertinence of the topics you select and your obvious research on the chosen subjects, and the way in which you keep us on topic. We are in your debt and we thank you.

This year we were also honored by being asked to provide a barbecue at the beach for eight Israeli survivors of the intifada. They were an inspiration to all who were privileged to meet with them and we hope that they enjoyed their stay here as much as we enjoyed their company.

LIBRARY

SLOW DOWN, RELAX AND SPEND A DAY WITH A GOOD BOOK. For summer reading perhaps one of the following will pique your interest:

A DEATH IN VIENNA. Daniel Silva. A master of international suspense presents a new extraordinary novel—the sins of the past reverberate into the present.

AMERICAN JEWISH YEARBOOK 2003. Directories, lists, obituaries, summary of Jewish calendar. The annual record of Jewish Civilization.

AMERICAN JUDAISM. Jonathan D. Sarna. A blend of fact and objectivity, interpretation and optimism. In honor of Cecil & Paul Grodner, gift of Libby Adelman.

FOIGLMAN. Aaron Megged. Winner of the prestigious Israel Prize 2003. A struggle over the soul of the Jewish people—a dialogue between the estranged halves of Israeli culture—Hebrew and Yiddish—one of the richest themes in this unforgettable novel.

KING HEROD'S DREAM. Kenneth G. Holum, ed. One of the richest archaeological sites in Israel, the story of Caesarea's rise, fall and subsequent rediscovery. Fascinating. Gift of Sue Richard NEVER AGAIN? Abraham H. subject. Foxman. A crucial discussion of the steps that must be taken to prevent this century from witnessing a replay of the horror of the last. In honor of Irving Levine's 85th birthday. Gift of Gloria & Howard Sabin.

PROMISED LAND. Abba Solomon Eban. Watercolor paintings and drawings with foreword by Leon Uris. Gift of Sue Richard.

SURVIVING WIDOWHOOD. Esther Goshen-Gottstein. Accepting widowhood, finding new direction and excitement in living—new and appropriate ways for the past to inform and enrich life in the present.

THE CONFESSOR. Daniel Silva. An intense, intriguing murder mystery, taking place in European cities—Mosad agents, the Pope, long buried secrets and unthinkable deeds.

THE FATE OF ZIONISM. Arthur Hertzberg. How we can be Jews with a past, Zionists with a passion and Americans with a future at the same time. In honor of Libby Adelman, gift of Lois & Frank Adler.

THE JEWS OF PRIME TIME, David Zurawik. Ambivalent about their own Jewishness, the heads of the major TV networks who dictated the kinds of shows shown, distorted or eliminated completely images of Jewish characters and Jewish themes during TV's first 35 years.

THE LORD IS MY SHEPHERD. Harold S. Kushner. Healing wisdom of the 23rd Psalm. In memory of Goldie Weiss, mother of Deanna Marco, gift of Miriam Miller. NOTE: We also have the CD read by the author.

THE SHENGOLD JEWISH ENCYCLOPEDIA. Mordecai Schreiber, ed. A one volume comprehensive reference to everything Jewish, includes timeline of Jewish and World History. In memory of Murray Deitch, gift of Miriam & Seymour Miller.

THE SIGHT OF THE STARS. Belva Plain. An exploration of the bonds that sustain families and the lies that can shatter forever.

ERROR IN APRIL ARTICLE: Sorry; The video tape of SAFE HAVEN was a gift of Dr. Ira J. Singer.

ON THE (JEWISH) ROAD

Are you traveling this summer? Your Temple library has an extensive collection of articles from current periodicals about places of Jewish interest around the world. Our vertical file has information on tourist destinations from Asia to the Yukon, with special emphasis on the 50 states.

Do you need an audio tape or CD to listen to while on the road? Check out our library's offerings.

For summer reading in the hammock there are numerous new novels to help pass the lazy days.

All of the above can be checked out over the summer as long as you mail them back to the library in a timely fashion.

Meanwhile, if you have any library books still at home, please be sure to return them before you leave town. Happy trails!
